Physical and Applied Physical Science Biology which became effective from the academic year 2005-2006. A highlight of this course was that living processes discussed as a theme cutting across plants, animals and microbes, wherever possible. Also new laboratory exercises, which are not usually taught in other biology courses, were designed for this course. The same course was reintroduced in semester based scheme in 2010.

Presently the department is teaching Generic Elective (GE) and Ability Enhancement Compulsory Course (AECC): Environmental Sciences under Choice Based Credit System (CBCS) scheme. It is shared by both Botany and Zoology Department.

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH

About the Department

The Department of English, Atma Ram Sanatan Dharma College, established its undergraduate B.A. English [Honors] programme in 1960 and postgraduate M.A. English [Honors] in 1996. It has decades of experience in nurturing young minds, providing them with opportunities to learn from and interact with some of the brightest minds in the field, and explore the subject in the entirety of its breadth and scope.

Objective

The English Department is committed to the inception, the augmentation and the refinement of critical thinking among its students. Far from being a bearer of imperial socio-cultural residue, we have, in fact, turned ourselves into the preeminent engine of postcolonial consciousness. However, this does not imply that we gravitate to positions of antagonism vis-a-vis the West. Our objective is the development of a symbiotic and an inclusive sensibility which combines the best of what 'has been thought and said.' We believe in using any prescribed text as an excuse to engage with a galaxy of issues ranging from matrimonial proprieties during the Gupta age to issues of identity in the post 9/11 world.

Through a number of courses aimed at enhancement of English language skills, we touch the life of each student who enters the college. We understand the significance of English in the context of the various competitive examinations which our students undertake and we also realise that many of these youngsters do not have the same linguistic dexterity which a student of B A (Hons) English might possess. To ensure that no student feels left out, we adopt graded pedagogy, combine technology with classroom lecture, emphasise on practice and walk that extra mile whenever we must.

DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY

About the Department

Although the Department of History was started in the founding year of the College itself i.e., 1959; for the first 10 years it was only offered as part of the erstwhile B.A. (Pass) course. Eventually realising the growing demand for the discipline, History was introduced as an Honours course in 1969. Thereafter, by virtue of a stellar faculty's endeavour and the matching enthusiasm of its students, this department has earned a name for being one of the most active and vibrant departments of this college.

Objective

Among the main aims of this department is inculcation of a historical and long-term perspective in the students and prepare them for a wider role in the society. To that end, we try to further enrich the class room experience by organising regular talks by eminent scholars, arranging for frequent trips to places of historical interest, conducting workshops, and also project based study tours. Our endeavour is not only to promote academic excellence but also to impart the necessary skills to enhance employability, towards which a variety of skill enhancement courses have been recently introduced to further improve the students' prospects in the job market.

तब तक कहीं न रुक जाना!
जीवन-पथ के संघर्ष-समर में,
बिना जीत के ठहर न जाना!

सीखो नहीं कभी भी प्यारे,
पीठ दिखाकर पीछे हटना!
थोड़ा-सा बस ज़ोर लगा लो,
लक्ष्य तुम्हें जो ह्रासिल करना!

छेड़ अहं को, तोड़ वहम को,
भ्रम-भय के अंध तिमिर को,
ज्ञान के आलोकित पथ पर
चिर काल यूँ ही बढ़ते जाना!

मंजिल दूर नहीं अब अपनी,
बस थोड़ी कोशिश और करो!
बाधाएं आएँ अनेक, फिर भी,
संकल्प अपना मजबूत करो!
